The Gryllidae orthopteron, male of the species, rubs his wings together and chirps.

And he gathers, with his kind, by the bushel basketful on the side of light-walled buildings, within buildings and around lights for what is called his annual "love in".

He was "hip" with his wing music before the hippie types gathered in Haight-Asbury a couple of years ago or in New York two weeks ago. Guitar music, by comparison, is preferable.

It "ain't" the kind of cricket people enjoy in Central Texas. We are told he is welcome as fish bait in East Texas.

Why doesn't he migrate east? Or, why don't East Texans requisition his billions before he emerges?

This annual renewal of a life cycle is interesting just before it becomes nauseous.

He paints walls brown in these numbers and devours his own upon reaching a light source or light surface. He compels city street sweepers to clear the gutters. And he draws the chemicals and powders of major industry to combat his mass.

Would that we have the good fortune of the Mormons of a century ago, who, upon suffering their first crop in Utah, suffered a plague of locusts which, mysteriously, seagulls flocked in to devour.

We are closer to the Gulf than the Mormons to the Pacific. Where, oh where are some seagulls?

When the early-week rains came, Mr. Cricket washed back where he came from. Most of him.

He will continue for a few more days, since he emerges a few days early this year. Some suggest it is the rain; some say he would have come out anyhow.

A Broadway show of recent years featured a cockroach named "Mehitabel", who inhabited a newspaper reporter's typewriter and imagination. And we know of "Jiminy Glick", the ubiquitous little friend of "Yankee Doodle" of children's literature.

A cricket or even such a cockroach may be fascinating company by ones, but when there are too many ants, locusts or even people, he tests his desirability.

Power of a man in public life is called "clout"; the pundits and columnists report. By such measure, the cricket's influence this time of year must be his "crunch."

DONORS GIVE 107 PINTS TO BLOODMOBILE

"People were grateful for the rain and wanted to express their thanks," said Sister Aloysius, reporting on a record turnout for today's bloodmobile visit.

A total of 107 units of blood was collected.

The local blood program chairman said the large number of prospective donors (120 in all) was the "most in a long time," and proved that "Cameron can do it." Sister Aloysius said many people were first-time donors.

Donors had to wait much longer than usual because only three Red Cross technicians were making out instead of the usual four. Sister Aloysius said provisions will be made to call for extra technicians at the next bloodmobile visit if donor crowds are large.

Cameron hasn't made its 71-unit quota in a long time and the 107-pint total should make us proud," she said.

She added that the blood was extremely important because of the upcoming Labor Day weekend, when accidents will increase calls from hospitals for blood.

"Everyone's blood will be used for someone," Sister Aloysius said. "We want everyone to know that the blood they gave on Tuesday night saved someone's life."

The recent increase in the donor age limit from 61 to 65 also helped increase the number of donors, she said.

Door prizes were won by Mrs. J. Reusser, Eddie Huntman, and Gerald Bowen. The prizes were donated by Schiller, Dusek, and New Cameron pharmacies.

Banks To Extend Friday Service, Close Saturdays

Both Cameron banks and several area banks are planning to begin closing Saturdays, but extending the banking day to 6 p.m. on Fridays.

Citizens National Bank and First National Bank, of Cameron, and several banks in Rockdale, Thon-dale, Rogers and Rosebud are planning to begin new closing hours after October 1.

Lester Williams, president of First National Bank, said banks would begin a 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. banking day Friday, October 3. First Saturday morning closing would be October 4.

County, city and federal offices are closed in Cameron Saturdays as well as attorneys offices and most plants in the Cameron area.

Services Set For

James Russell, 79

James J. Russell, 79, of Rt. 2, Cameron, died early Wednesday in a Temple hospital following a long illness. Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Thursday (today) in the chapel of Green's Funeral Home in Cameron with Rev. L. E. Snow and Rev. H. A. Bradley officiating.

Burial will be in North Elm Cemetery. He was born December 8, 1889 in Fayette County, Texas, but had been a resident of Milam County most of his life. He was a retired nightwatchman.

He is survived by his wife; one son, Elton Russell of Temple; one daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Lorene Drake of Temple; one sister, Mrs. Nick Gandy of Temple; and six grandchildren.

Full bearers will be Kenneth Gandy, Willard Gandy, James McGoldrick, Dennis Tetter, Terry Hardwick, Alfred Price.

Anderle Low Bidder On New Dress Plant

Anderle Lumber Company, of Cameron, was awarded the contract for construction of a new plant for Hensley-Russell, Inc., Cameron dress manufacturers.

Bids were called by Cameron Industrial Foundation and opened Monday afternoon. Five companies submitted bids.

Contractors and net bids were: Anderle Lumber Co., $89,319.66; Johnnie L. Vanicek, of Temple, $89,455.00; Walker Steel Building Co., Mexico, $90,150; Billington Construction Co., Waco, $93,834; and Chandler Construction Co., Cameron, $118,385.

Anderle's contract calls for 120 working days. Narvie Caperton, president of CIF, said plant construction is expected to start soon on a five-acre tract in Cameron Industrial Park.

The dress plant is now operating at Cameron Airport with about 80 employees. Construction of the new 15,000 square foot facility is expected to raise the number of employees to 150.

Approval of a $65,000 Small Business Administration loan, plus loans from Citizens National and First National Banks, and CIF, opened the way for building the new plant.

New Laws Change Vehicle Inspection

Texas' motor vehicle inspection laws will change in a big way starting September 1, with a new year-round inspection schedule instead of an April 15 deadline.

All cars inspected during September 1969, will be due their next inspection during September 1970. Those getting inspection certificates during October 1969, will be due a new inspection during October 1970, and so on.

The current inspection sticker will be used until December 31, but with a difference. Beginning September 1 the sticker will be placed in the lower left hand corner of the windshield and the number "9", for September, will be placed on the face of the sticker.

Beginning January 1, 1970, a different inspection sticker will be used and the numbering system will begin with the numeral "1".

Another change in the inspection law is an increase in the fee from $1.75 to $2.

The increase was given to com-

YOEMENS FIRST SCRIMMAGE AT MCGREGOR FIELD

The Yoemen face their first varsity scrimmage Friday night when they meet a strong McGregor on McGregor field. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

McGregor won district last year and has 10 returning starters. Yoemen Coach Hal Stanislaw said they play a single wing with normal 6-2 defense.

Stanislaw said the Yoemen were moving along well in practice. He said Clint Seaford had been slowed by a twisted knee, James Mueck with a pulled side muscle, and Bill Ferrin was still having some trouble from a knee injury. "But", he said, "workouts this week have been very spirited."

Reception, Open House, Supper . . .

City To Salute Schools

Pre-school activities dominate the local calendar for Thursday (today) with a reception for teachers, 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., open house at Cameron Junior High 6 to 8 p.m., and ice cream supper at 7 p.m., sponsored by the Band Booster Club.

RECEPTION
The Annual Chamber of Commerce sponsored reception honoring local school personnel will be from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. today in the Cameron Public Library. It is open to the public.

Ollie G. Chamberlain, chairman of the Chamber Education Committee, urged the community to attend and said "our schools produce many of our future community leaders and this reception is a tribute to all of those people who contribute to the task of educating your youth."

OPEN HOUSE

An open house at Cameron Junior High School will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. tonight.

Supt. D. R. Dodson said they hoped that the public and school

Sheriff Nabs Teal

At Temple Airport

A young escapee is back in Milam County Jail following his apprehension at a Temple airport Saturday morning.

Kenneth Teal, 17, who escaped from the jail on July 18 with Leiland Liles, 19, was arrested by Sheriff Carl Black and Bell County law officers as he got off a plane at Draughon - Miller Airport early Saturday.

Teal and Liles were being held on burglary charges when they escaped. Sheriff Black said trial date for Teal is pending on the recapture of Liles, still at large.

Officers received a tip that Teal was on the plane, coming back to Central Texas from California, and were waiting at the airport when the plane landed.

The Sheriff said 14 prisoners are in County Jail, including Jessie Ellison, of Temple, who was sentenced to 50 years in District Court here last week. Ellison's lawyers filed an appeal for a new trial.

faculty would take this opportunity to see the new junior high school facilities. Dodson said teachers would be on hand to show the classrooms and other facilities.

Don Wiggins, CHJ principal, said they anticipated 400 students in the 6th, 7th and 8th grade school and a staff of 15 teachers, two full time teacher aids and one working a half day.

Physical changes at the former 12 grade school have included enclosing the stage to make room for additional gymnasium dressing rooms, shelving in the cafeteria so that it can double as a band hall and conversion of the home economics room to an individualized instructional center.

An additional 340 new lockers have also been ordered, but are not expected until after school opens. Wiggins said this would provide individual lockers for each student.

Three classrooms have been completely refurnished to junior high size and one classroom has been converted into a satellite media center.

Wiggins said the space gained for junior high students would allow an expanded reading program to include 6th and 7th grades, improved science instruction with a modern science lab and physical education for both boys and girls in all three grades.

Miss Mary Belle Batte will continue to teach 7th grade social studies under the special program using tape recordings and film strips and other equipment. The individualized center was moved from the Triggs home at Yoe Campus to CHJ.

Library books and equipment were also moved from Ada Henderson to the new junior high.

Wiggins said other work that would be evident at the open house was leveling work on the playground in preparation for landscaping and general summer paint and cleaning jobs.

BAND BOOSTER

The Band Booster club will sponsor a home-made ice cream supper for all members of the Beginner Band, Junior High Band, Senior High Band, and their parents, at 7 p.m. tonight in the Band Hall.

Parents of band students, Booster Club members and friends of the band have been urged to attend to show their appreciation of the hard work the band has been doing during the hot days of the past few weeks.

Entertainment will be provided by the Senior Band.

For School Opening . . .

Hours, Faculty Complete

Lunch schedules, bus schedules and school faculty has been announced for the opening of public school on Tuesday, September 2.

Supt. D. R. Dodson said all faculty positions had been filled and additional school personnel hiring had been completed with the exception of one bus driver.

LUNCH HOURS

Trnett Zelisko, principal of elementary grades, said lunch period for Ben Milam School (1st and 2nd grades) will be 11:50 to 12:15. Ada Henderson School 3rd, 4th and 5th grades' lunch period will be 11:45 to 12:30.

Cameron Junior High School will have a 40 minute lunch period from 11:50 to 12:30. Don Wiggins, principal, said the lunch period would be staggered after they determine how many eat in the cafeteria. School officials are expecting 400 students at the junior high and cafeteria capacity is 250.

Lunch schedule for Yoe High School is 12:10 to 12:50. Alvis Fugatey, principal, said juniors and seniors would eat at Ben Milam cafeteria and freshmen and sophomores at Ada Henderson.

BUS SCHEDULE
Eleven buses will run each day and in addition to picking up children out of the city limits, they will provide a shuttle service between the junior high and Yoe campuses.

Supt. Dodson explained that five buses will unload students at the junior high school and reload with any students from that section of town that need a ride to other schools. Six buses will unload first at the Yoe campus and reload with students going to junior high. The buses will reload for the shuttle service each morning at 7:45.

The buses will return children to the two campuses each day at the close of school.

DOWNPOURS, DRIZZLE END RECORD HEAT

It rained — pouring, soaking rain — fell on parched Milam County Tuesday, ending a summer of broiling temperatures and drought for much of the Central Texas area.

Cameron recorded over 3 inches of rain, most of it falling during the morning hours. Water Department gauge showed 2.18 inches but larger amounts were recorded unofficially around the city. Slow rain and drizzle Tuesday night and Wednesday morning added .25 of an inch to the City's total.

Rockdale totaled 4 inches in the morning thundershowers and other points in Milam County recorded unofficial amounts ranging from "mist" at Maysfield to nearly 4 inches at Salem.

Durham reported 1.10 inches of rain on Tuesday and drizzle Wednesday. "Good rains" were reported for Ben Arnold and Jones Prairie.

Temperatures dropped from the 100s-and-over to cool highs of 88 on Monday and 86 on Tuesday. Thermometers have been registering 100-plus for 40 days this summer.

The drought-breaking moisture was greeted with the same joy as that in 1967, when Central Texas suffered a longer dry spell and had to wait until early September for rain. Drought conditions in Cameron and most of Milam County became serious, as water levels dropped in farm tanks and pastures dried up.

Emergency grazing and haying relief came this week for farmers and stockmen facing the possibility of a bleak winter for cattle.

The first five months of 1969 were "wet" with 19.24 inches of rain falling during the late winter and early spring months, but by the middle of May, rain clouds fled from the Cameron area and temperatures began their steady rise toward the 100 degree near-record temperatures.

Strong, dry south and southwest winds combined with a burning sun to suck up moisture from fields and stock tanks and by July, area farmers were requesting disaster status.

Weather forecasters predict temperatures 4 to 5 degrees below normal for the period through September 1 for nearly all areas of the state, with moderate to heavy rains for most sections.

Cars Collide With House, Truck; Two Persons In Hospital

Two Cameron residents are in local hospitals following accidents on Friday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Annie Lou Brooks, of 603 North Houston was injured in a freak car-house accident Friday, and Hinton Pruitt, of 602 North Travis, was injured in a car-truck collision Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Brooks was injured when a car driven by R. W. Bennett of 109 North Houston backed into the outside of a bedroom of her home where she was making up the bed. Bennett's garage faces East Sixth street.

Police Chief John Shearin said Bennett apparently backed across the street and up into the Brooks yard where the car hit the side of the house, knocking the siding off. The impact broke the iron bedstead in the room.

Mrs. Brooks remains in Newton Memorial Hospital where her condition is listed as satisfactory.

A 1969 GMC truck loaded with a large transformer collided with a car driven by Hinton Pruitt about 11:27 Wednesday morning.

Pruitt's car entered Highway 36 from North Crockett and was struck by the truck, driven by James H. Carter, of Abilene. Investigating officer Truman White said the truck driver swerved his cab over in an effort to avoid the collision but the truck struck Pruitt's car broadside.

Pruitt is under observation at St. Edward Hospital. Extent of his injuries is unknown.

*Tickets were issued to Bennett for failure to maintain control and to Pruitt for failure to yield right of way.

Texas Crime Rate Is Up

AUSTIN — The crime rate in Texas for the first six months of 1969 is running 7.7 percent higher than the comparable period last year according to a report released today by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, DPS director, said major crime increased in all categories except murder and homicide, where the statewide rate declined by 8.8 percent.

The greatest increases were listed in the robbery category, up 31.2 percent. Aggravated assaults were up 29.9 percent, auto theft up 14.8 percent, and burglary up 9.7 percent. Speir said rapes were up 3.9 percent and thefts up 3.9 percent.

In Texas, the crime clock ticked one major crime every 1.3 minutes for the January through June period. There was one murder every eight hours, a rape every 4 1/2 hours, a robbery every 1 1/2 hours, and a burglary every five minutes. An aggravated assault occurred every 21 1/2 minutes, a theft every 2 1/3 minutes, and an auto theft every 16 minutes.

The greatest increase in crime was in urban areas where the overall rate increased by 8.5 percent. In rural areas throughout Texas, the average rate increased by less than 1 percent.

An analysis of crime rate changes in urban areas by population indicates an upswing of almost 9 percent in cities of over 101,000 population. The rate is up 7.1 percent in cities of over 50,000, and up 18.8 percent in cities having populations between 25,000 and 50,000.

Cities having populations between 10,000 and 25,000 had an overall rate increase of 6.9 percent, while those between 5,000 and 10,000 had a 12.4 percent increase. Smaller towns from 2,500 to 5,000 population report an increase of just over 18 percent.

Statewide crime clearance rates for the first six months held at 27 percent, the same as 1968. However, DPS statistics indicate an 84 percent clearance rate for murders and 66 percent for rapes, with a 39 percent clearance rate for robbery.

In urban areas, the 1969 crime clearance rate is 26 percent, the same as last year. Rural clearances stand at 37 percent, as compared to 43 percent at mid-year 1968.

YARBOROUGH TO SPEAK
State Rep. Dan Kubiak announced today that U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough will speak in Rockdale on Labor Day, Sept. 1, at the VFW Hall. The public is invited and a barbecue will follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Loftin attended the wedding of Edward Joe Sevcik and Miss Margaret Lynn Massingill Saturday at the SS. Cyril and Methodius Catholic Church in Marak.

New Probate Code Wins Approval At Dallas Meeting

The National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws formally approved of its new Uniform Probate Code at the close of the annual NCCUSL meeting in Dallas. The vote was 41 state delegations in favor, 4 opposed, and 2 not voting.

The Section on Real Property, Probate and Trust of the American Bar Association, following the lead of its council, voted to recommend to the ABA House of Delegates that it endorse the Code, now in its seventh and final draft. The Section meeting on August 13 saw the Illinois and Chicago Bars make an unsuccessful effort to secure delay in the ABA action, on the basis of a 245-page report the two bars developed jointly. The report found many deficiencies in the Code, according to representatives of the two groups.

The House of Delegates, on the afternoon of the 13th, voted to endorse the Code and recommend action on the part of state and local bars to obtain its adoption in the 50 state legislatures. The president of NCCUSL, in speaking for the Code, noted its publication requirements had come in for some criticism. He said it eliminated "needless publication" which results in "tremendous cost" to the heirs and devisees of estates. He actually made reference to "bread from the table of widows and children."

NNA was represented in Dallas by Frank Luecke, Chairman of the Public Notice Committee; Warren Maul, Lu Morse, Paul Conrad, Noel Cates and John Makar.

Teal Hunters Should Keep Sharp Lookout

AUSTIN — Hunters must keep a sharp lookout during the early teal season Sept. 13-21.

If they shoot any species of waterfowl other than teal during the season, they are subject to charges of taking game out of season which could mean a fine from $25 to $100. And game management officers will be out in force to keep a close eye on the hunt.

For this reason, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is encouraging the hunters to study waterfowl identification before taking to the field. Although the blue-winged teal is recognized as the "early bird" among fall migrating waterfowl, there may be other early arrivals among the various species which would get the uninitiated hunter in trouble.

The bluewing is much smaller than other waterfowl which may be found in Texas during the early season.

It will be in eclipse plumage; however, the large light blue patch on the forehead of both male and female blue-winged teal will be noticeable.

The white crescent in front of the eye, prominent in most color paintings of the bluewing teal, may be obscured in eclipse plumage. The general appearance will be that of a small mottled brown and teal duck that decays readily and leaps vertically from the water as it takes flight.

On the wing, the male bluewing's call is a soft, hissing whistle or "peep." Females voice a faint, muted "quack."

Teal fly with great speed (accentuated to the observer by their small size), usually in close flocks with much seemingly erratic twisting, turning, and darting.

An information sheet on the early teal season is available and may be obtained by writing the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas, 78701.

WOMENS CLUB OBSERVES 25th YEAR WITH TEA

Pleasure and Profit Club met on Thursday, August 21, in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church to celebrate the Club's 25th Anniversary, and for the first meeting of the new year.

The serving table was laid with a white satin cloth, centered with a silver centerpiece, holding an arrangement of red roses, the Club's flower. Mrs. J. A. Loney poured fruit punch from a crystal punch bowl. Mrs. Walter H. Lester and Mrs. O. G. Chamberlain served white cake squares topped with red rose buds. Silver containers held mints and nuts.

Another table in the hall held a center arrangement of red roses, around which were arranged scrap books, year books, photos, and other mementos of the past 25 years.

Mrs. Franklin Dusek registered guests. Past members attending were: Mrs. Earl Mosley, Mrs. A. E. Jones, Mrs. Grady Cooper, Mrs. H. M. Yager, Mrs. Jesse E. Holloway, Mrs. Guy Chandler, Mrs. Tommy Chamberlain, Mrs. Beatrice Wiese and Miss Lois Randolph.

The Club was organized on August 10, 1944, at the home of Mrs. James Heffington, charter members were: Mrs. James Heffington, Mrs. Willis Dismukes, Mrs. Grady Cooper, Mrs. Earl Mosley, Mrs. Ernest J. Burkes, Mrs. LeRoy Raley, Mrs. Don Slacomb, Mrs. Guy Chandler, Miss Ada M. (Margaret) Smith.

The Club has benefited in both Pleasure and Profit over the 25 years of fellowship. They have also added to the community life as supporters of the Cameron Library. Members donated books through their Christmas Tree and served as volunteer librarians.

PAID IN FULL — Lions Club President Jim Camp presents second and final payment on $1,000 pledge made by the Noon Lions Club to the St. Edward Hospital Development Fund. Sister Kostka, hospital administrator accepts the check as Sister Justus and Robert Ellett, Fund Drive Chairman, look on. The $1,000 gift from the Lions Club Charitable Projects Account was the largest donation made by the local club.

Want to know the easiest way to catch flounders?

Your best bet is to go after them at night with a Coleman lantern and a sharp-pointed gig. You simply wade along in knee-deep water, hold the lantern so it lights up the bottom, then when you see an oval outline with two eyes reflecting like diamonds, drive the gig home and you have a flounder.

This is an excellent way to stock the freezer with flatfish. But it isn't a very sporting way of catching flounders. That gig doesn't give the flounder any chance at all of fighting back.

A more sporting way to catch flounders is with hook and line. This takes considerable know-how and patience, but once you have experienced the fight that a hooked flounder can wage, you will admit the extra effort is worth the trouble.

A popping rod with a baitcasting spin-cast or spinning reel is ideal for the job. You'll need a supply of treble hooks, size 4 and 6; some quarter-ounce pinch-on sinkers; and some floats.

Best bait to use is live mud-

Mental Health

NON-URBAN AREAS TO GET MORE MENTAL HEALTH CARE

What is the outlook for better mental health care for Americans living in the rural areas of the Nation?

Through community mental health programs funded by communities, States, and the Federal Government, it now promises to be brighter than at any time since the rise of the large custodial mental hospital.

In a recent tabulation of the growing number of community mental health centers, the National Institute of Mental Health reports that centers are now slated for 23 percent of the country's rural county population.

These centers will bring mental health services within reach of millions of Americans, most of who never before had access to community-based care and alternatives to hospitalization.

In 11 States, centers to be created with the aid of Federal construction and staffing grants will cover more than one-third of their rural county populations.

Of the 500 poorest counties in the country, 466 are rural. Funded centers will serve 122, or 25 percent, of these.

Of the 3,134 counties in the United States, 2,169 are outside of "standard metropolitan statistical areas" and have more than 50 percent of their residents in communities smaller than 2,500 population.

Most of the 134 new rural centers will cover several counties, using mobile treatment teams or satellite clinics.

They will provide a comprehensive range of services, as required by the Federal aid program: inpatient and outpatient treatment, emergency services, day or night care (partial hospitalization), and consultation and education for physicians, schools, clergy, and local agencies.

Since the first Federal grant for community mental health centers was awarded in 1965, more than 350 centers have been funded in 49 States, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia, covering areas in which more than 54 million Americans reside. By 1980 some 2,000 centers are projected for the national community mental health program.

HD Agent Notes

Bathroom fixtures can be painted. Many a bathtub since the claw foot type is still serviceable. However, the porcelain has worn, especially in the area hit with the force of water from the faucets. And it takes vigorous scrubbing to clean the dulled surfaces. This is also true of washbasins.

When the budget doesn't allow for the replacement of bathroom fixtures, painting with epoxy enamel offers a solution.

A real beauty boon for the bathroom, these remarkable paints provide a hard finish. When dry, they have the shiny look of porcelain and are just as easy to clean with a sudsy sponge. In addition, they are available in several standard shades, or may be tinted to attain almost any color desired. A whole new look can be created around budget-pleasing renewal of the bathroom basics.

To prepare the surfaces before painting, be sure to scrub, rinse, and dry thoroughly. Starting with a clean surface is essential to a satisfactory job. Apply the paint with a brush, roller, or spray. It dries to touch in two hours and hardens completely in about 24 hours. It is a good idea to cover the faucets with cloth or some other absorbent material to prevent any possible drips from causing "Dents" before the paint has set.

The new finish is not only easy to clean but it also resists staining, scuffs, caustics, and solvents. Epoxy enamel may also be used to rejuvenate metal cabinets and furniture, ceramic tile, and kitchen appliances.

fish or mullet, about one to two inches in length. You can also use either live or dead shrimp. Often, however the trash fish will beat the flounder to the baits.

During the fall and winter the best flounder fishing will be in fairly deep water, around jetties and along the edges of ship channels and natural passes. In warm weather flounders move up on flats where bait fish tend to congregate. Consequently in the spring and summer you will find the best flounder action in water three to four feet deep.

Each season requires a special type of rigging and fishing. Let's consider the spring and summer fishing first. Rig your float or cork so that the baited hook will suspend a few inches off the bottom. Make your casts TOWARD the current, then allow the current to carry the bait along. Thoroughly fish the area in this manner before moving to a new location.

Remember in flounder fishing that flatfish don't go charging after the bait like most fish do. They will take it only when it passes close overhead or nearby. They will grab a bait and then settle back down into their bed.

Keep this in mind and don't set the hook too soon. Let the fish take the bait well into its mouth... then sock it to him. At first it will feel as though you have snagged the bottom, but once the fish feels the bite of the hook, it will start to put up a fight.

In fishing for flounder in cold weather and in deep water don't bother to use a float. Instead cast out and allow the baited hook to sink to the bottom. Then slowly reel it in. Do this in the same unhurried manner as you'd work a plastic worm while fishing for black bass. Again cover an area thoroughly before moving to a new spot.

Use care in getting the hook out of a flounder's mouth. This fish has very sharp teeth that can cause deep wounds.

Eighth Bite Is Imported

COLLEGE STATION

One-eighth of the things we eat comes from another land. This fact, says W. E. Black, Extension economist in marketing and policy at Texas A&M University, is based on the most recent U. S. Department of Agriculture food imports figures.

Some of these imports, he adds, compete directly with foods we grow here in this country. Among these are some meats, dairy products, and fruit and vegetable products. Such imports work some hardship on our farmers, but to our consumers it means competition and more attractive food prices explains Black.

However, a large proportion of our imported eating is items not grown in this country, yet are a part of nearly every meal. It's pretty hard to think of eating very many meals without a steaming hot cup of coffee, tea, or cocoa. Yet all of these beverages come from other countries. Asia, Africa, South and Central America, notes Black.

Too, it's pretty hard to imagine meats without pepper, hot rolls without cinnamon, gingerbread without ginger, ham without cloves—you could go on and on. Cooking and, of course, eating would be very boring without the spices and herbs. Here again we rely heavily upon overseas friends to help us out.

A very high proportion of our most popular and widely used flavoring agents come from other countries. Pepper from East Indies, cinnamon from Indo-China, cloves from Zanzibar, oregano from Greece, allspice from Honduras, poppy seeds from Holland... the whole world helps make our meals tasty and different.

Another food, and one of our favorites, for which we rely upon overseas friends is bananas. They come to us from South or Central America or the Caribbean countries.

One bite in eight—that's how much of our food comes from overseas. While some of it competes directly with our own foods, much is types and kinds we wouldn't otherwise have but like very much.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

THE DIPLOMATIC POUCH

WASHINGTON, D. C. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State: "Star of David"

I would like to inquire about a story someone told me about the one-dollar bill. It seems that the thirteen stars on the green side, inside the eagle part of the Great Seal, are arranged in the form of a six-pointed star — the same star which is known as the shield of David, a symbol of the Jewish people. I was told that this was done in appreciation for the financial aid given to George Washington and the Revolutionary War by a rich Jewish financier, Haym Solomon. Is this true?

A.S.
New York, N. Y.

Dear A. S.:

The question you raise — whether the thirteen stars in the crest of the Great Seal of the United States were arranged in the form of a "Star of David" in appreciation for the services rendered during the Revolution by the financier, Haym Solomon — has been addressed to us a number of times in the past. We have found no information that such was the case.

There is no indication that the arrangement was intended to be a six-pointed star. The resolution of June 20, 1782, by which the Continental Congress adopted the design of the Great Seal and which remains in force unchanged today, describes the crest in the following words: "a glory, or, breaking through a cloud, proper, and surrounding thirteen stars, forming a constellation argent, on an azure field." The law is thus specific only on the number of stars, thirteen, and on the fact that they shall form a constellation, i.e., an arrangement or pattern. Just what that arrangement shall be is left to the discretion of the heraldic artist.

Tough sketches of two of the designs considered by the Continental Congress show a very haphazard grouping of the stars, but for the finished design a more compact, orderly arrangement was obviously called for. Given the requirement of thirteen stars and limited space, the most efficient arrangement that suggests itself would seem to be the present one of 1-4-3-4-1 in a series of five horizontal lines.

The intent of the designers of the Great Seal with regard to the symbolism of the design is recorded in the "Remarks and Explanation," of which we enclose a photocopy. Regarding the crest, only the following is included in that statement: "The constellation denotes a new State taking its place and rank among other sovereign powers." So far as can be determined, the only significance of the pattern of the constellation is its compact symmetry.

We are enclosing a copy of a letter received from the Club des Voyages, Prague, Czechoslovakia. We would request from your office approval to send such U.S. travel information as requested. If you do not approve our sending this information, please advise.

Mrs. L.B.
Carson City, Nev.

Dear Mrs. L. B.:

Regarding the advisability of your organization, the Nevada State Park System, sending information to the Czechoslovak Club des Voyages in Prague, the Department of State perceives no objection and, in fact, believes that it may very well be a worthwhile project. Do you have an inquiry about U.S. Foreign Policy?

Pecan Growers Should Inspect Tree For Weevils

The pecan weevil, a very destructive insect of pecans, will soon be putting in an appearance. The weevils begin emerging from the soil in August and early September, says L. R. Green, assistant Extension entomologist at Texas A&M University.

The adult weevil is a brownish "snout beetle" that resembles the boll weevil but is much larger. The female has a snout which is as long as her body; however, the male has a somewhat shorter snout.

The adults feed on pecans before the shells begin to harden and the feeding punctures often cause the nuts to drop, says Green. A second type of damage occurs after the nut kernels have begun hardening. The female chews a hole in the pecan hull and deposits her eggs in small pockets in the nuts.

Control is based upon application of insecticides after the adult weevils begin to emerge from the soil. To be effective, insecticides must be applied before extensive egg laying has occurred, emphasizes the entomologist. Trees should be examined each year

Vinyl Cloth Is Versatile

By Christine Laws

Vinyl cloth is versatile and washable. Both an expert seamstress or a sewer-of-sorts will find fabric-backed vinyl cloth wonderfully versatile.

Even a cut-and-glue girl can shine in the "made-it-myself" department by using vinyl cloth for many decorative projects. Best of all, everyone benefits from its easy cleaning quality. The surface is waterproof so that smudges and soil are quickly wiped away with a sudsy sponge.

The material handles well, is easy to sew, and folds without cracking or peeling. Because the fabric, which is woven, is sealed with a coating of vinyl, it may be cut without regard for the straight of the fabric — a boon for novice sewers. If a pattern is used, it may be necessary to match pieces or cut them with the design all going in the same direction, just as with regular fabrics.

Kitchens and bathrooms are natural for decorating with vinyl cloth. The material is unaffected by water, steam, or grease. The entire kitchen can be color-mated by combining a pattern with solid tone.

It is simple to cut strips for shelf lining because edges will not ravel. Or use regular shelf-lining to match the yard goods design selected. Then make curtains. It's easy to sew when edges need not be turned. And remember, curtains can be washed frequently with just a sudsy sponge.

An old wastebasket or set of canisters can be transformed into matched sets. Cut enough vinyl cloth to fit the container. If you are a novice, cut a pattern from paper first. After the vinyl cloth is cut, fit and trim it carefully. The, apply white glue to the back and smooth it onto the container using a damp sponge to press out any air bubbles. Hold the material in place with rubber bands or string until the glue dries. Top off your kitchen communication center with a bulletin board made of 1/2-inch fiberboard covered with suds-spongeable vinyl cloth.

Aside from the home fashions scene, this material is ideal for making a supply of baby bibs, aprons, and children's painting smocks. And they'll all be easy to keep clean with suds and water. Find edges with bias tape for a finished look.

Outstanding Students Married In Houston

Outstanding spring graduates from the University of Texas, Miss Melinda Elizabeth Hill and Mr. Michael Warren Perrin, were wed on Saturday, August 9, at 8 p.m. at Chapelwood Methodist Church, Houston. The Reverend Kelly Williams officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Luke Hill, Jr., former Secretary of State of the State of Texas. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren Perrin of Cameron, Texas.

Alencon applied pearls motifs completely embellished Miss Hill's formal gown of imported English net over peau de soie. An empire bodice with a princess neckline and brief sleeves flowed into an A line skirt outlined with a deep border of silk peau de soie. A detachable chapel length self train of net high, lighted with lace appliques and peau de soie border fell from the shoulders. Her cathedral length veil of rosepoint lace lined with illusion was an heirloom from Brussels which was caught to a crown of alencon lace. Miss Hill carried a bouquet of tuberoses, begonias held on an heirloom mother of pearl bible from the Holy Land.

Miss Martha Hill attended her sister as maid of honor. Long bright lime green cotton dresses with a raised daisy design were worn by bridesmaids Mrs. Michael E. Pierce, Houston, Misses Gayle Greenwood, Temple, Patricia Tottenham, Austin, Anne Bernard, Lubbock, Daisy Sloan, Bryan, and Marilyn Perrin, Cameron, sister of the groom. They carried garlands of string smilax with accents of yellow and white marguerite daisies and zinnias in shades from coral to bittersweet. Small circlets of the same flower garland were worn on their heads with the garland encircling into each bridesmaid's hands.

Mark Perrin was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Bill Perrin, brother of the groom, Cameron, Graham Hill, Houston, brother of the bride, Corby Robertson, Houston, Jerry Stool, Del Rio, and Andy White, Houston. Ushers were Jerry Grammer, Austin, Don Evans and Dick Ponder, Houston, and Dick Watt, Athens.

The floating altar of the church was decorated with giant fronds of woodwardia fern framed on either side by a double pair of spiral candelabra in a sunburst effect. A pair of slender one-sided tree candelabra were placed on the lower floor to complete the lower right and left corners of the frame for the altar. The center aisle was lined with pairs of single-branch aile hurricane candelabra softened with fresh smilax. Pews down the center aisle held cascades of Southern smilax which fell to the floor.

Mr. Steve Gideon, Stevesville, accompanied by Mr. Bob Brewer at the organ, played a trumpet solo. Vocal soloists were Miss Pam Wilton and Miss Peggy Evans, both of Houston. Kendall Smith, Houston, was acolyte.

The bride's mother chose a designer formal gown of yellow over lime chiffon with a band of encrusted beading lining the neckline, front panel and cuffed the long chiffon sleeves. The groom's mother chose a silk alencon gown in pink with short capped sleeves and a bead encrusted border around the neckline.

Hanging baskets of giant woodwardia fern depicting a summer house theme for the wedding reception in the Houston Country Club ballroom hung in cascades among the columns encircling the ballroom. Beneath the baskets were walls of lattice work with vines of smilax entwined throughout. The cake table was elevated and was encircled in a gazebo faced with fresh smilax.

Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hill, Sr., Kilgore, and Mrs. Louis Picocek, Sr. and the late Mr. Picocek, Graham. Grandparents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Leland Green, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Perrin, all of Cameron.

Both the bride and groom were spring graduates of the University of Texas and were recognized as "outstanding" for their campus involvement and leadership. The bride was a member of Chi Omega, Cactus Goodfellow, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Sigma Alpha, Orientation Advisor and Chairman of Round-Up. The groom was a three year varsity football letter man, A National Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete, received the Mike Flynn Award (outstanding University of Texas man), Foreman (President) of the Texas Cowboys, a Cactus outstanding student and was a member of Delta Tau Delta and Psi Chi.

After a honeymoon in Acapulco and Mexico City, the couple will reside at the Double L Ranch in Dripping Springs, near Austin. The groom will study law at the University of Texas and the bride will teach Government and Speech in the Austin public schools.

TOPS 'N TEXAS TO RECOGNIZE WOMEN 'DOERS'

Individuals and club organizations of the Central Texas area are invited to make nominations for the Tops 'N Texas awards to be presented in Austin, October 31, by Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew.

The Tops 'N Texas Award's Program is designed to give recognition to those "unsung heroines" in Texas who have contributed their time and effort in helping their community. Any group or individual may make a nomination and any woman convicted may win the award, without reference to her political affiliation. The project is sponsored by the Texas Federation of Republican Women, and locally by the Central Texas Republican Women's Club. The program is based on concern for community problems, women working to help solve these problems, and that problems are solved through the enterprise of individuals.

Mrs. Paul Nussbaum of Temple, local area chairman, said "We are looking for women who have seen the needs of people and have worked toward helping others. We are hopeful of having many nominations and perhaps a winner."

Driver error is responsible for a high percentage of motor vehicle accidents.

AAA Urges Drivers To Be Extra Careful When Schools Open

Thousands of children are headed back to school full of nervous excitement — but with little thought for safety.

Joining with law enforcement officials throughout the state the American Automobile Association urges extra care during the first few weeks of school.

Traffic accidents kill more children between one and fourteen years of age than any other cause.

Because kindergarten and first grade youngsters, many on their own in traffic for the first time, suffer most of the school route injuries, AAA suggests that parents walk with their children on the opening day of school making sure that their children are familiar with traffic aids and regulations and use guarded crosswalks whenever possible.

Driving children to school only adds to the confusion around school areas, creating more hazardous conditions. Even though children should learn traffic rules, the major traffic responsibility consistently falls on the driver.

AAA pleads with all drivers to help protect the lives of school children this year by driving with particular care everywhere children might be playing or crossing — and especially near school areas.

Bond holders should be aware of two facts and give consideration before redeeming for non-emergency or planned purposes," Siebman stated.

"One - accrued interest on bonds must be declared on Federal Income Tax returns in the year Bonds are cashed and, two, The Department of The Treasury has proposed to Congress a new higher rate of 5 per cent on both E and H Bonds retroactive to June 1, 1969. The 5 per cent rate would also apply to all outstanding bonds," Siebman said.

By Mrs. Edwin Gandy
The First Baptist Church will hold a weekend revival beginning Friday, August 29th through Sunday, August 31. Services each afternoon will begin at 8 p.m. Rev. Melton Miles will bring the message at each service.

The Womans Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. C. R. Criswell last week for the teaching of a mission book, "People Who Care" by C. W. Brister. Mrs. Frank Garey presented the book with each lady taking a part. After the program refreshments were served by Mrs. Criswell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gilbert spent the weekend in Freeport with their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. James. Mrs. James had surgery while they were there.

Mrs. Paul Sakewitz and Leslie visited Mr. Paul Sakewitz, who is a patient in a nursing home in Temple.

Mr. Tal Woodward is a patient in Newton Memorial Hospital in Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holder and Harry visited her mother, Mrs. Hill in a nursing home in Gatesville Sunday afternoon to celebrate Mrs. Hill's birthday.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lock over the weekend were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Warren and children from Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Orba Arnold visited Mr. Tal Woodward in the hospital Sunday afternoon, they also visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Weems of Cameron.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Loftin on Sunday evening to celebrate his birthday were their children, Mrs. C. C. Schrank and children of Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Loftin and family.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Hill and children, Jo Loftin Earl Allison, Edwin Gandy and Mr. and Mrs. Warren McCall and Robert.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Svetlik Sr. over the weekend were their children, L. A. Svetlik Jr. from Ft. Worth and Mr. and Mrs. U. D. Adams and sons from Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Burtis visited her mother, Mrs. C. B. Baskin of Cameron on Sunday afternoon.

Wolves Downed By Local Young Trapper

Roland Graham, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Graham of Route 3 Cameron, chalked up another wolf Tuesday morning, the second in two weeks.

The young trapper has been having a running battle with the wolves who come out of the deep woods close to his home and wait for the family's chickens to come down from their nightly roost in trees.

Roland said a lot of chickens had been lost to the predators and he sets a trap near the "roosting."

No one knows how many wolves are in the woods, but Roland is determined to get the ones who try for a chicken breakfast.

The Grahams have dogs, but Roland said the dogs are scared of the wolves and will not try to attack them.

Supplement Feed Costs Compared

By J. D. Moore

From the standpoint of the protein and energy cost, one may feed cottonseed to cattle when the price of 1 pound of cottonseed does not exceed the cost of 2.5 pound of cottonseed meal and 3.5 pound of grain sorghum grain, according to U. D. Thompson, Extension Animal Husbandman at A&M University.

According to local farmers, cottonseed is bringing $37 per ton at the gin or 1.85 cents per lb. Figuring cottonseed meal at $70 ton, 2.5 of a pound is worth 1.4 cents. Figuring grain sorghum at $1.39 per 100, 3.5 of a pound would be worth 1.14 cents.

Based on these figures the protein feed cost is about a break-even price. Not more than 4 to 5 pounds of cottonseed should be fed daily per head to mature cattle.

According to Thompson, methods of feeding and individual preference determine the form of supplement to be fed. The form and color makes no difference to cattle.

Form does play an economic role, in that labor and equipment costs vary accordingly. Blocks, cubes, cakes and pellets offer the advantage of feeding directly on the ground; whereas meals, crumbles and liquids require equipment.

The quantity and quality of forage should also influence selection of a supplement.

High energy feeds are preferable when roughage is scarce, thus a protein supplement containing these feeds would be desirable. The use of sorghum grain, cottonseed meal and salt is an attempt to lower feeding cost and yet supply both protein and energy.

During periods of scarce forage, cattle do fairly well when fed liberal amounts of high energy feeds. A 10 percent crude protein hay is about 50 percent digestible protein. Therefore, 16 pounds of such hay would supply .8 of a pound of digestible protein which meets the bred cow requirement.

Cow performance would depend upon the energy value of the hay. Although the protein requirement may be met, a cow would still get thinner when fed a low energy hay. Grass hays are generally low in energy whereas, the sweet sorghum hays are high in energy.

Mixtures which limit consumption include cottonseed meal and salt mixtures which have been fed for many years.

The percentage salt varies from 15 percent to 50 percent depending on time of year and quantity and quality of forage. The more common mix being 67 percent cottonseed meal and 33 percent salt. Such mixture limits adult cattle to about 2 pounds of cottonseed meal daily per head. No ill effects have been observed in high level salt feeding if water is available.

Association To Meet At Walkers Creek

The Walkers Creek Cemetery Association will meet Sunday, August 31 for its annual gathering. Don Humble will be guest speaker at the 10:30 a.m. service.

Everyone is asked to bring a basket lunch for the noon meal. Drinks will be furnished.

Horsemen Win At State

By Fred Schuetze
Martha Lynn McDermott's gelding named Joe won first place trophy in a field of 17 at the State 4-H Horse Show held recently in Sweetwater.

The horse won the top spot in Halter Class 8, Grade Geldings under 14 hands 3 inches. Martha Lynn also competed in Showmanship, Western Pleasure, and Reining contests.

Murray McDermott entered the Halter Class for registered geldings, five years and over; Western Pleasure, and Reining.

He qualified for the Reining finals out of a field of 108 contestants and won a trophy for tenth place.

Martha Lynn won a trophy for 8th place in the Western Pleasure

Annual Picnic Set At Burlington Hall

St. Michael's Parish will sponsor its annual picnic Sunday, August 31 at Burlington Hall.

Festivities will get underway at 3 p.m. with food, refreshments, and games for all. A sausage and chicken supper will be served from 5 until 9 p.m.

A dance will be held Sunday night with music by Louie Stefek and the Versatiles.

finals held Saturday, August 16, out of 28 contestants. She also competed in the Reining finals.

The State show, described as "tough or tougher than any professional horse show held," was held in Nolan County Coliseum at Sweetwater. The four-day bonanza drew 4-H horsemen from the deep tip of South Texas to the most northern section of the Panhandle.

Some 250 contestants competed in 16 events, including the cutting horse contest, drill team contest, halter classes for mares and geldings, Western pleasure, reining, pole bending, barrel racing and showmanship.

The McDermott duo did better than any other group from Milam County participating in State horse shows.

Murray and Martha Lynn were accompanied to the show by their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lyle McDermott, Buddy Shipp, Herbert Simms, Christine Laws, and Fred Schuetze, assistant county agent.

ADULT LEADERS MEETING

Adult leaders of all Milam County 4-H Clubs will meet at the First National Bank in Cameron on August 28 at 8:30 p.m. All parents are urged to attend.

Business to be conducted will include the election of officers and discussion of the county Mr. and Miss 4-H Contest.

ASCS

By Alva E. Sanders

Every eligible voter is urged to participate in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) community and county committee elections.

ASC community committee elections will be held the third week in September, and states of nominees now are being compiled at the ASCS County Office.

It is important that farm owners, operators, tenants, and share — croppers not only vote but also nominate and work for candidates of their choice.

The ASC committee system is the vital connecting link between the individual farmer and Washington in the administration of farm programs such as crop acreage stabilization and commodity price supports. Farm programs are changing as national needs and concerns change.

County ASCS Committees may well be called upon for local administration of new farm programs before many months have passed. The best possible representation of farm interests is needed in this area. Milam County needs community and county committee members who will give time and effort to providing fair, effective, and knowledgeable administration of the programs.

Nominations for community committee candidates may be made by petition by eligible voters and by incumbent ASC community and county committees. More detailed information on eligibility of voters and candidates, nominations and elections will be published. The Milam County ASC Committee is elected community committee member who serve as delegates to the county convention.

DDT RESIDUES

The Wisconsin Dept. of Natural Resources has found that "up to 55 percent of DDT residues in fish taken from Lake Michigan can be removed before the fish are eaten." Deep frying was shown to reduce DDT residues by 55 percent, broiling by 36 percent, and taking by only 11 percent.

Natural Fibers Will Take Spotlight In Fall TAP Campaign

One of the most extensive natural fiber promotion campaigns ever conducted in the State of Texas will open in early September and will continue through October, according to John C. White, Texas Agriculture Commissioner.

The promotional campaign, featuring cotton, wool and mohair, is another segment in the Texas Agricultural Products (TAP) program, instituted last fall to make Texans more conscious of the many quality agricultural products produced and marketed in the state.

"The natural fibers program is designed to acquaint consumers with the finer qualities of fabrics, garments and other products made from cotton, wool and mohair. The program also is being directed to manufacturers and others in the textile industry to emphasize the value of these natural fibers in finished products," White said.

Natural fibers production in Texas ranks second only to cattle in the state's agriculture economy, bringing in approximately $300 million per year to Texas producers. The total impact of the overall Texas economy amounts to over $2 billion per year.

Stracener Family Has Annual Reunion

The annual Stracener family reunion was held at City Park in Cameron on August 3.

Three children of the late Mr. and Mrs. James L. Stracener are surviving. Present at the reunion were Mrs. Sallie Stracener Varner of Cameron, 82, and Mr. Jessie Stracener of Milano, 79. Mrs. Minnie Bankston of Temple was unable to attend.

Those present were from Victoria, Levelland, Mesquite, Temple, Houston, Channelview, Austin, Rockdale, Milano, Jacksonville, Arkansas, Lexington, South Carolina, and Cameron.

A history of the family was read and a basket lunch was enjoyed by all. It was voted that the reunion will be held on the second Sunday in August, 1970.

electricity
it did 20 years ago!

In these days of sky-high prices for nearly everything, it's nice to know that the price of each kilowatt-hour unit of electricity used by Texas Power & Light Company customers in their homes is about one-half what it was in 1949. True, most electric bills are higher today, but that's because most people are enjoying so many more conveniences and comforts provided by electrically-operated appliances and equipment. Last year, the average TP&L residential customer used more than six times the amount of electricity he used in 1949. When you receive your electric bill, think of the many electric servants in your home and the jobs they perform. Remember the low, per-unit price of electricity. We believe you'll agree that the cost of electricity is the biggest bargain in your family's budget.

Broad Economic Base . . .

With awarding of a building contract for a new building for Hensley - Russell, Inc., Cameron Industrial Foundation, Inc., once again shows Cameron's growth.

Subject to final arrangements, the new dress factory will be under construction within a short time across from Royal Seating Corp's 40,000-foot expansion program, already begun. Upward to 150 jobs will be possible in the larger dress plant.

More jobs, more investment in the approximate 40-acre industrial park is the pattern so steadily developed in the past 15 months.

It is proof that organization and motivation can solve problems only a few years ago appearing insurmountable.

It is justification for Cameron to continue its final $30,000 leg, of which $2,000 is pledged already, toward the original $100,000 goal of 1966.

It is reason for every confidence in Cameron's future, a future including a cultural festival having all the ingredients of a major Central Texas attraction in a few years.

Everyone can take pride in the application of leadership in CIF, Inc., its directors' evaluation of community needs, capabilities and growth.

Cameron is a maturing industrial center which knows its balance of agriculture, business and industry provides a broad economic base for whatever the future brings.

What Others Say . . . Consumer Squeeze . . .

Inflation is commonly measured by the steady climb in the consumer price index. There is another barometer, however, not so well known, but just as significant for the average consumer. This is the shrinkage in the size of packages and containers that isn't accompanied by reductions in price.

Rep. Benjamin Rosenthal of New York, chairman of the house special consumer inquiry subcommittee, calculates that this "quiet shrinkage" has produced a further inflation of about 10 percent in less than five years.

In 1965, for instance, a box of Pillsbury pancake mix contained 13½ ozs.; this year it contains 12 ounces. But the price hasn't gone down.

Rosenthal found other examples of this hidden inflation:

	1965	Size	Now
B&M Pork and beans	27 oz.	22 oz.
Libby's chili	16	15
Gulken's mustard	6	5
Calumet baking powder	8	7
Betty Crocker frosting mix	15	14
Jergen's Lotion	12½	10½
Palmolive after shave lotion	5	4

There are undoubtedly many more examples of this "inflation on the sly." What it all adds up to, of course, is more squeeze on the American consumer.

Tax Fight Blame Goes To Senate, House Division

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Sharp division between the Texas Senate and House was responsible for the tough tax fight in the final days of the special session of the Legislature.

It was not possible to get a majority of the Senate to agree on a tax bill tilted toward sales taxes, while House majority favored that route.

In past years, it has been the other way around, with the Senate sales-tax minded and the House reluctant.

This attitude goes back to the 1930's, when 59 members of the House blocked the "transactions tax" proposed as a constitutional amendment by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, and approved by the Senate.

But the one-man, one-vote decision of the U. S. Supreme Court made the Senate more city-minded, and switched the role of the two houses.

Gov. Ben Barnes, Speaker Gus Mutscher and Gov. Preston Smith all were anxious to get the tax-and-spend issues settled by Tuesday's adjournment, because they had other engagements.

Barnes is president of the National Legislative Council, which opened its annual meeting in St. Louis, Mo., Wednesday.

Mutscher planned to head a delegation of House members to the same conference.

And Governor Smith was ready for the National Governors Conference in Colorado Springs, Colo., starting Sept. 1.

ANTI-CRIME PROJECTS

Criminal Justice Council of the governor's office has recommended $252,499 in action grants for new local programs to fight crime.

Council voted funds from $1.1 million allocated Texas by the federal government under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968. State and local matching funds also must be provided.

Largest of grants, $127,000, would go to Houston for an area-wide information and communication system to be tied into a computer and connected with a state and national system.

Fort Worth will receive $60,000 for a police-community relations program; Travis County $35,000 to expand its model adult probation project; North Central Texas Council of Governments $21,000 for a police training program.

San Antonio police department $19,680 for a police-community relations seminar program and $7,339 for a Bexar County juvenile delinquency prevention project; Galveston $9,360 for a police department management survey; Houston $6,550 for a four-week course offered 20 police officers in the region.

Council also accepted a study and report by Systems Science Corporation on a proposed statewide communication and information system to link the criminal justice system including police, courts, corrections and rehabilitation services.

OIL ALLOWABLE TRIMMED

For the third straight month, Railroad Commission cut statewide oil allowable, setting it at 52.1 per cent of potential.

September allowable allows maximum per day of 3,237,997 barrels. This compares with 3,284,263 barrels daily under August 53.1 per cent order.

Six of 14 major crude purchasers sought more oil next month than five the same amount.

Allowable reached 21-year peak in June when it rose to 63.5 per cent, but was cut to 54.7 per cent in July and 53.1 per cent for August. Railroad Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said Texas crude oil stocks early this month totalled 104 million barrels, 200,000 more than a week ago.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I didn't object, since I was about through with my nap anyway, when a newspaper carried by a light breeze landed on my face and woke me up the other afternoon — it was a good thing too because the shade I started out in had moved off and left me in the sun — and after I came to I looked the paper over.

A headline immediately caught my eye: "Doctor Says Man's Sleep Will Be Reduced To 3 Hours."

According to it, a British doctor claims people sleep too much, says the idea you should get 8 hours of sleep every night is nonsense, that five or six is enough and 3 is better.

This is a matter I'm going to have to sleep on before I come to a decision.

In the first place, I have noticed that some of the happiest hours of young parents take place when the youngster is asleep, and while 3 hours is some relief, 8 is better and if he wants to go for 10 or 12 that's better still. In this connection, it should be pointed out that appreciable amount of treasure as charged by Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

Diver Jeff Burke of Rio Hondo told the Commission several items not reported on the log of Platoro Inc., the exploration firm which brought up artifacts, were recovered. Burke predicted Platoro will win its lawsuit claiming title to the treasure and "open the door for every treasure hunter in the country."

Secretary of State Martin Dies said Platoro had no license for exploration from the state, and its find belongs to Texas.

Meanwhile, Rep. Frances Paret-hold of Corpus Christi offered a House resolution proposing censure of Sadler for his handling of legislative committees and legislators seeking to probe the treasure case.

U. S. Bureau of Customs jumped into the controversy with a demand for an inventory of items salvaged, and claimed they are the property of the U. S. until matters in controversy (including processing of entry forms) are resolved.

APPOINTMENTS

Edward M. Yturri, Corpus Christi attorney and city attorney of Matthis, has been designated assistant state chairman of the Texas Republican party and head of state GOP Mexican - American Advisory Committee. Job is one of five top leadership posts in the Texas party.

Governor Smith named Jimmy Ralph Morris of Corsicana criminal district attorney for the 13th judicial district, Navarro County.

S. H. Roberts of Austin is new U. S. Marshal for the Western District of Texas.

Speaker Mutscher selected Rep. John Traeger of Seguin and James E. Nugent of Kerrville as Texas delegates to the 22nd annual meeting of the National Legislative Conference in St. Louis, Mo.

Statistics Still Show Women Live Longer

Father probably will leave dependent children when he dies; latest statistics still show that women live longer than men.

Minnie Bell, Extension specialist for aging, explains that loss of a father and widowhood still remain a social problem.

Age is the determining factor, she explains.

A husband probably will outlive his wife if she is five years older than he. But if they are the same age, the wife has a 64 per cent chance of becoming a widow.

A Closer Walk With God Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

man's work

Christ made the laboring man a great promise. The proclaiming of Labor Day as a national holiday might not be a coincidence after all. In St. Matthew, the Lord promised rest to all those who labor and are heavy laden. Thus the National Holiday was set aside in respect to all those who work together to make our nation strong and free. God is on the side of the working man, but He has no use for the nonproducers—the drones—the sluggards—the usurers. In Corinthians, He makes it very plain that every man shall receive his own reward, according to his own labor. Then, let us not gloat over past accomplishments. Let us put our shoulders to the wheel for greater achievements. As we honor our working women and men, let us reflect on all the good fortunes of every American laborer. And may we reverently think on God as we celebrate, as we pay our respects, for we know, a man's work is born with him.

You In The Church
The Church In You
—form a combination
for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So, come, let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Mary Hardin - Baylor Begins 125th Year

Mary Hardin-Baylor College will begin her 125th year of education with registration on August 18 and 29.

The fall semester schedule lists some 172 individual classes available, with 45 of these classes offered on Saturday and at night, as part of the Continuing Education Center. The Fort Hood Extension of the Center will offer 23 classes at night at the Fort Hood Education Center.

Dormitories will open for new students on August 26, and for returning students on August 27. Returning students will register on Thursday, August 28.

Those who plan to take night courses only will register the first meeting of classes. Regular classes will begin at 8:00 a.m. on September 2. Further information about admission and registration is available from Mrs. Ara Leo Normand, Registrar, at the college.

Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I was killed for additional income taxes. Can I pay this off in installments?

A — Full payment is due by the date stated on the bill. There is no provision in the law for paying these taxes in an installment basis.

Q — I lost my refund check and filled out a form for a new one over a month ago. What is holding it up?

A — Before another refund check can be issued, a thorough search must be made of Treasury records, the Post Office and other sources to see if the missing check can be located. When this search is completed, another check can be issued.

Q — I made a profit when I sold my vacation home. Can I postpone paying tax on this if I put all the money into another summer place?

A — No, the provision in the tax law that permits the postponement of tax on the profits from the sale of a personal residence only applies to the taxpayer's principal residence. A second home, or a vacation home, is not covered.

Q — I sold some standing timber on my farm to a lumber company. Is this regular income or a capital gain?

A — Such a sale is usually reported as a capital gain or loss. For details on when sale of timber is treated as a capital gain, obtain a free copy of Publication No. 544, "Sales and Exchanges of Assets," available at all IRS offices.

The Department of Agriculture also has a publication on this subject. It is Handbook No. 273, "The Timber Owner and his Federal Income Tax," and is available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402, for 35 cents a copy.

Q — When my father died, I inherited the sports car he had. If I sell it, will I have to pay income tax on what it brings?

A — Probably not. There would be no Federal income tax to pay on the sale of the car unless it has increased in value during the time you owned it.

There would be a gain to report if you received more for the car when you sold it than its fair market value at the time of your father's death.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Mimics, Unlimited?

Mimicking the famous is, and always has been, a favorite mode of humor. Prince or president, magnate or movie star, anyone in the public eye can expect to see his idiosyncrasies turned into fodder for laugh.

Some are pleased, perhaps on the theory that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. But suppose the person mimicked is not pleased. Does he have a legal kick coming?

As a rule, the answer is no. Whatever anguish he feels is considered one of the penalties of fame. The law gives a kind of poetic license to the mimic to practice what it calls "a distinct variety of the histrionic art."

However, there are limits. Even the famous are entitled to be shielded against the imitator who goes too far.

For one thing, mimicry must not be used as a device for defamation of character.

"A person shall not be allowed," said a judge, "to murder another's reputation in jest."

For another thing, the mimic—even though telling no lies—must not violate the right of privacy. He must not expose those areas of the person's life that are not "fair game" for public dissection. Thus, revelation of a tycoon's personal peccadilloes, if totally unrelated to his business career, might well be an invasion of his privacy.

What if the mimic uses imitation not for humor at all, but rather to pass himself off as the real thing? In one case, an actor assumed a name and mannerisms similar to those of a famous entertainer, so as to trick audiences into coming to see him.

But a court finally halted him with an injunction, partly to protect the original entertainer, partly to protect the public. As one judge put it:

"First, a man who has a reputation for excellence is entitled to be protected in the reputation thus established; and second, the public should be protected against whomsoever places a counterfeit article on the market in the likeness of the genuine."

Unusual Foods May Tempt Children Who Won't Eat Breakfast

When school starts, is it hard to get children and teenagers to eat breakfast before rushing off each morning?

Why not plan to break the rules this year about conventional meals in the morning and try something different.

How about a peach, hamburger and bun with milk? Or orange juice, oatmeal cookies and milk. Anything — but get some food into those empty stomachs.

Studies have shown that work output is less when breakfast is skipped than when some food is eaten in the morning. Minds work better, tempers are smoother, and spirits are higher all day long if breakfast is eaten.

Start now to think of breakfast innovations for children who "can't face" eggs in the morning.

A hamburger for breakfast may sound horrible to a grownup but may really "turn on" teenagers. A bowl of ice cream will provide needed calories; and try boiled eggs instead of fried or scrambled.

SAN GABRIEL—

By Mrs. Ralph Hirsch

The Baptist men's group from San Gabriel Baptist Church to attend the Brotherhood Round-up at Highland Lakes Friday were Rev. Dean Parmer, James A. Smith, James Terry, Johnny Stanislaw and Hugh McMillan. Also attending was Rev. John Buck from Hillcrest Church.

Visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hirsch this weekend were Ralph, Paul, Alice, Linda and Dale Hirsch of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stewart were in Temple Friday. Jim had to go back to the Dr. at Scott and White to have the fluid removed from his knee.

Set. Tim Wadley, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wadley, returned to his home Monday from M. C. R. D. and the U. S. Naval Hospital in San Diego, California, where he has been since being injured in Viet Nam on July 28, 1967. He was injured when a hand grenade exploded striking him in the head. He is presently waiting for his final papers, which are being processed granting him a medical discharge.

Mrs. Emily Linke attended the Welle reunion in New Braunfels Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Leunier and daughter of Houston were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Leunier.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Archey, Mr. Michael Cast, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cast and Miss Donna Cast visited this week with Mrs. Betty Harrison. The family came for the funeral of Mrs. Edgar Cast on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Zane Sigall and Michelle, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sigall and boys all of League City spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Sigall.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Lida were in Waco Thursday to meet their daughter and grandson, Mrs. Linda Miller and Scott. Linda returned to Dallas and Scott accompanied his grandparents home to stay until school starts.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Adamek from Caldwell visited with Mr. and Mrs. William Sigall Sunday.

Visiting Mrs. Media Clark Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Duncan from Houston and Harry Wayne Clark from Waco.

Visiting Mrs. Andrea Garner from Wednesday until Thursday this week were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stiles and family from Austin.

Mrs. Milton Sommerfeldt and son and Miss Joy Dell Sommerfeldt visited the William Sigalls Sunday evening.

You Don't Say

OBJET D'ART

Without some awkwardness unless you are completely sure of your meaning and pronunciation.

OBJET D'ART (OB Zhay DAR) means any object or article of artistic value. It is used in small letters as, objet d'art.

Not everyone would find a use for this phrase, but for those who do, it can either indicate poise and confidence or, if incorrectly used, it can create an air of awkwardness not only to the speaker but to those whom it is inflicted.

Corp. by Adria Allen.

DON'T FORGET

September 1 is the deadline for landowners along streams and rivers to file for a water claim for irrigation purposes with the Texas Water Rights Commission. Filing claim forms are available from the offices of county agents or county clerks in most Texas counties.
